Fund performance was positive during Q1 2024 and the fund rose just over 9% in SEK. The upturn in the equity market was driven by increasing confidence in a soft landing of the economy, with support from expected rate cuts.

Holdings in Volvo, Novo Nordisk and SEB were the strongest contributors to fund returns, with Novo Nordisk and SEB delivering strong reports for Q4 2023 and Volvo performing strongly in line with the rest of the manufacturing sector.

Nibe and Sweco had the most negative impact on returns after being weighed down by reports that were weaker than expected. Nibe's sales were negatively affected by the persistently high inventories of heating pumps in the distribution chain that were accumulated during a period of high expectations for further strong growth and the need to ensure delivery capacity. Declining gas prices in Europe and lower subsidies have dampened incentives for installing heating pumps. The inventory situation should be rebalanced during the end of the year and there is a further need for energy transition that is assisted by effective climate solutions over the long term. Sweco was weighed down by struggles in the UK market where projects within transport are being cancelled and the company is now adjusting after the overcapacity that arose. The fund increased holdings in Nibe, Astra Zeneca and Nolato during the quarter and took profits in Indutrade on the back of strong share price performance.

In the upcoming reporting period we continue to focus on investee companies that have sustainable business models and competitive offers with sustainable growth even in a weaker economy.
